Mr. Henry Chapman,
333 South 16th Street,
Philadelphia, Penna.

My dear Mr. Chapman:

After leaving you the other day, I dropped in to see your brother, and he again showed me his collection.

There are quite a number of his Greek and Roman antiques which appeal to me, and which I should like to have in my collection, if he were willing to part with them.

Knowing his sensitiveness on this point, I hesitated to approach him strongly on the subject, but am wondering if you could not see your way clear to talk to him, and if the same could be negotiated it might be of some little profit to you. I would be willing to pay you a commission on this transaction.

If he would be open to reason, I would, I think, be willing to purchase quite a few of his pieces. If he would not listen to splitting up his collection, I might even be willing to buy the same en block.

Will you take the matter up and let me hear from you.

With kindest regards,

Yours very truly,

Walter A. Roselle

I could arrange to run over to Philadelphia, Saturday morning if you would be wished to talk to me personally on the subject.
